BREEDERS CODE OF ETHICS

Boerboel Australia Inc. requests that all associated members subscribe to the BAI Breeders Code of Ethics as well as promote high standards among breeders and owners in the quest for the preservation, advancement and improvement of the Boerboel breed.

- Registered Breeders must support and promote BAI events
- Registered Breeders with BAI must register all their pups with BAI
- Registered Breeders will have their dogs appraised by BAI approved standards
- Registered Breeders do their best to guarantee the genetic health of pups. In the event of health issues, the breeder must replace or refund on vet advice. Return of the dog may be required if not already deceased.
- Registered Breeders will comply with all requirements from BAI to remain registered
- Registered Breeders will make provision for first time owners to become members of BAI
- Registered Breeders will ensure that their breeding facilities are within the legal requirements as prescribed by the municipal regulatory authority within the district where the facilities are established.
- All breeding dogs are to be registered and appraised in accordance with the requirements of BAI registries.
- Registered Breeders will endeavor to undertake necessary health tests (Hip/Elbow are the mandatory & minimum testing requirements) and temperament testing where such test results will appear on the BAI certification highlighting each breeding dog's status relative to confirmation, health and temperament.
- Ensure that at all times such dogs are properly housed, watered, exercised and will receive Veterinary attention from a qualified person, as and when required.
- Provide adequate shelter for any dog/s kept outside the house or premises.
- Ensure that the exercise area for such dogs be of sufficient size for the movement of such dog/s and to have the exercise area/s fenced or walled so as to restrict the movement of such dog/s to their property and that the exercise area is kept clean.
- Not allow such dogs to roam at large, keep their dogs on a lead, and under effective control, in all Public spaces, except those specially designated where the dogs must be trained to return on command.
- Registered Breeders dogs will not be involved directly or indirectly in or used for any illegal activity.
- Breeding dogs will bear absolute identification in the form of microchips
- Full health certification and/or records must be kept of all breeding dogs at all times.
- Breeders must keep accurate records of breeding dogs. Such records include birth notifications, birth certificates, registration certificates, service contracts, breeding records, vaccinations and health certificates or reports.
- Each breeding will be planned with the objective of improving the standard of the specific bloodline and overall improvement of the breed. Breeders with less than 5 years or less registration will be required to submit all breed plans to the Breed Council for pre approval.
- Breeders must thoughtfully select the appropriate stud dog and brood bitch with the emphasis being on improved conformation, temperament and overall health while at all times conforming to the BAI breed standard and the principles of genetics.
- The breeder will provide the buyer of each puppy an official BAI birth notice and vaccination card and microchip number at point of purchase.
- Bring to the attention of the appropriate authority cases of alleged fraud, dishonesty, cruelty or neglect and not commit such offences themselves
- Ensure that when selling or transferring a dog that the necessary signed document/s be provided to the purchaser or transferee
- Ensure that all persons acquiring dogs from them clearly understand their responsibilities for the care and welfare of such dogs and they, the new owners, have the time and facilities to undertake their obligations as laid down in this Code of Ethics
- Not knowingly misrepresent the characteristics of the breed, nor falsely advertise or mislead any person regarding the performance and/or quality or health of any dog

Any registered Breeder who fails to comply with any of the provisions of the Code of Ethics as detailed above will result in Disciplinary actions be taken against them. BAI board members reserves the right to revoke breeder's membership.
